Art Unit: 1794

1. Claims 5-7, 9-12 and 16-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Iwasa et al. (US 2002/0012786) for reasons of record and for reasons given below. Iwasa et al. disclose a porous resin film. The porosity of the film is 10% or more [0012]. The film is a mixture of hydrophilic and non-hydrophilic resin components. The film may have a base layer that may be up to 100 wt % thermoplastic resin [0014] and which may also be porous [0056]. The film is used in a recording medium which may be for ink jet printing [0061]. The hydrophilic thermoplastic resin may be polyvinyl alcohol [0018]. The film may be made porous using a foaming agent [0054]. Supports of materials such as polyester are disclosed [0060]. The reference states that optional additives may be added and gives examples at [0044]. While the examples do not include fluorosurfactants or crosslinker for the hydrophilic resin, these are conventional additives in the art of ink receptive media. Surfactants are known additives to aid in dispersion of components and cross-linkers increase water resistance of the medium when a hydrophilic binder is included. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to include conventional additives in conventional amounts for their well known purposes as set forth above.

2. Applicant's arguments filed 4/10/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. MPEP 2111.03 states concerning "consisting essentially of":

The transitional phrase "consisting essentially of" limits the scope of a claim to the specified materials or steps "and those that do not materially affect the basic and novel characteristic(s)" of the claimed invention. In re Herz, 537 F.2d 549, 551-52, 190 USPQ 461, 463 (CCPA 1976)... For the purposes of searching for and applying prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102 and 103, absent a clear indication in the specification or claims of what the basic and novel characteristics actually are, "consisting essentially of" will be construed as equivalent to "comprising." See, e.g., PPG, 156 F.3d at 1355, 48 USPQ2d at 1355 ("PPG could have defined the scope of the phrase 'consisting essentially of' for purposes of its patent by making clear in its specification what it regarded as constituting a material change in the basic and novel characteristics of the invention."). ...If an applicant contends that additional steps or materials in the prior art are excluded by the recitation of "consisting essentially of," applicant has the burden of showing that the introduction of additional steps or components would materially change the characteristics of applicant's invention. In re De Lajarte, 337 F.2d 870, 143 USPQ 256 (CCPA 1964). See also Ex parte Hoffman, 12 USPQ2d 1061, 1063-64 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989).

In this case, applicants argue that the maximum amount of hydrophilic resin in the prior art layer is 45%. The examiner has considered the specification to see if there was a minimum percentage of the layer that has to be hydrophilic; however, the specification uses "open" language and is silent on a minimum quantity for the hydrophilic resin that must be present. The question is not whether one of ordinary skill in the art would be lead to exclude the additional materials disclosed by the reference but whether or not the presence of these materials would materially change the characteristics of the invention. In this area, applicants have the burden of proof and they have failed to meet that burden.

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
